Source Like the Experts:
Candidate Sourcing Workshop

$599

Sourcing qualified candidates is only part of the recruitment process. Engaging candidates proactively is also a key strategy and we want to share our tried-and-tested techniques with you.

Join our Purple Squirrel Talent Academy recruitment experts for an interactive session including:

- Our expert techniques for finding and engaging candidates online.
- A two hour sourcing lab with a dedicated sourcing consultant to support you as you source, identify and engage quality candidates for your open position.
- Training on LinkedIn and the free tools to use in proactive candidate sourcing.
- The opportunity to strategize with our consultants and your peers to discuss challenges and ask questions.

Leave this workshop with training you can implement immediately and new candidates that you've identified for your current search.

Not recruiting for a search right now? If you have a reoccurring, high-turnover or high-demand role that requires a pipeline of active candidates, this workshop is still for you!

Participant requirements

- A laptop is required for this interactive workshop as participants will take an active role in sourcing candidates.
- A complete job description or position profile for your non-confidential open search (we'll review prior to the session and provide feedback).

Sessions are limited to 15 participants so register now!

Corporate team options of this workshop are also available – email info@peoplefirsthr.com
